A middle-aged man with grey hair, wearing a white polo shirt with horizontal stripes in purple, blue, and yellow, is smiling and holding two glass jars of honey. He is standing in front of a large, colorful wall of numbered mailboxes in various colors (yellow, red, blue, green, white). The mailboxes have numbers like 32, 31, 3, 26, 27, 26, 25, 24, 23, 9, 2, and 1. The scene is outdoors with green grass and trees in the background.

Ante Kresic was diagnosed with lung cancer fifteen years ago. Croatian doctors predicted that he wouldn't make it. However, Ante had other plans.

In fact, he managed to cope with this deadly disease with the help of homemade, natural medicine consisting of honey and medicinal herbs. Ante was producing a golden thick liquid, which he made by himself and some herbs. He claims that the whole procedure was documented and that there are enough evidence to silence the skeptics, and to give hope to patients to continue to fight. The doctors were amazed by his progress. Unusually, they were encouraging him to continue what he does because his condition was improving and they were not giving up on him. When doctors finally made a full examination, they could not find a trace of cancer in his body, thanks to the honey, which he made by himself and some herbs. Kresic decided to share his experiences all over the world, considering it was his duty to do so.

Kresic is not the only one who testifies that this golden thick liquid can completely cure cancer if combined with spices, pine needles, ginger and some other herbs. Take 2 larger pieces of ginger root, 2-3 pieces of dandelion root (<http://www.finelivingadvice.com/cancer-cells-decompose-after-several-days-with-the-use-of-this-remedy/>) and consume it. Consume one tablespoon, 3-4 times a day. It is important to use a wooden or plastic spoon, and not a metal one. The first effects will occur already after 4 days.
